Drug Trend Bulletin

All the tablets shown presumptively tested positive for ecstasy. The most prevalent ecstasy tablet recovered bore the Tesla logo and was red in colour.

The blotter art tabs (unidentified) require further analysis and their content has not been confirmed.

Other drugs recovered included cannabis and very small quantities of cannabis resin, cocaine and a very small amount of unidentified white powders that required further analysis (suspected to be ketamine and / or amphetamine).

There was no nitrous oxide or any other psychoactive substance recovered.
