

The Borders Recovery and Wellbeing Learning Passport was inspired by Steven and developed in association with Flourish - Mental Health Matters.

Empowering communities to shape, grow and advance mental health support in the Scottish Borders

Filled up all the pages in your Learning Passport? Order a new one by emailing health.improvement@borders.scot.nhs.uk

Borders Recovery And Wellbeing

LEARNING PASSPORT

YOUR LEARNING PASSPORT

This is a place for you to record information about your recovery and wellbeing learning journey. There's no 'right' way to use this passport, just focus on what feels right or helpful for you.

You can use it to:

- record the courses you do
- identify your achievements and celebrate successes
- reflect on the courses and what you learn
- think about what is useful for you - things you learn that are helpful and you want to remember
- Gather evidence about your learning journey in one place.

Space to write down anything that matters to you

This could be things that you want course leaders to know about you, things that you want your family to know or just anything that's important to your recovery and wellbeing learning journey.

It could be a challenge you want to overcome or something you want to achieve.

Be Mindful

Being mindful can help you to de-stress, give yourself some 'me time'

Manage Money Worries

Get help for financial difficulties; money problems are a common trigger for mental health problems

Stop Smoking

Find healthier ways to cope with stress

Be Creative

Creative activities and being involved in culture can help you to stay well and feel better

Connect with Nature

Spend time outdoors and bring nature into your everyday life

Limit Alcohol

Cut down your drinking to stay within the low risk guidelines

Creating Hope
Scottish Borders

www.nhsborders.scot.nhs.uk/creating-hope

Ways to Be Well

Learn more about ways to protect and promote good mental health and wellbeing – we call these 'Ways to Be Well'.

Eat Well

Food affects our brains and mood as well as our bodies

Sleep Well

Follow a good night time routine, sleeping well is vital for good mental health

Be Kind

Giving and receiving from others helps to build a support network

Be Active

Exercising regularly can make you feel more confident, happier, less stressed and sleep better

Be Connected

Connect with other people in a way that is good for your wellbeing

Enjoy and Learn

Learning new things can help you to be more satisfied and fulfilled

Courses that I want to do or find out more about

Space for you to make plans or set goals

My course record and reflections

Name of course:

Date(s):

My reflections:

Signature of course leader:

Name, position and organisation:

My course record and reflections

Name of course:

Date(s):

My reflections:

Signature of course leader:

Name, position and organisation:

My course record and reflections

Name of course:

Date(s):

My reflections:

Signature of course leader:

Name, position and organisation:

My course record and reflections

Name of course:

Date(s):

My reflections:

Signature of course leader:

Name, position and organisation:

My course record and reflections

Name of course:

Date(s):

My reflections:

Signature of course leader:

Name, position and organisation:

My course record and reflections

Name of course:

Date(s):

My reflections:

Signature of course leader:

Name, position and organisation:

My course record and reflections

Name of course:

Date(s):

My reflections:

Signature of course leader:

Name, position and organisation:

My course record and reflections

Name of course:

Date(s):

My reflections:

Signature of course leader:

Name, position and organisation:

My course record and reflections

Name of course:

Date(s):

My reflections:

Signature of course leader:

Name, position and organisation:

My course record and reflections

Name of course:

Date(s):

My reflections:

Signature of course leader:

Name, position and organisation:

