SCOTTISH BORDERS MENTAL HEALTH SERVICES INTEGRATED CARE PATHWAY (ADULT)

1. INTRODUCTION

The 'Mental Health Strategy: Scottish Borders' (Scottish Borders Health & Social Care Partnership 2017) sets out a framework for the delivery of activities and services designed to improve the mental health and wellbeing for all ages groups in the local population. This strategy is part of a wider programme of integration across a range of health and social care services, and describes a vision for mental health that aims to:

- promote good mental health and wellbeing for all
- respect, protect and support people with mental health issues and mental illness to live well
- recognise, support and value families and carers
- promote partnership between services and the population they serve.

Strategic priorities include:

- improving access to information and advice
- support for self-management
- improved access to services.

This Integrated Care Pathway aims to support that work by mapping out what supports and services are available for adults and how to access them. It is based on a 'Tiered Care' model that shows what is available for those with different levels of need, including:

- Tier 1: Self-help, prevention orientated services that enable people stay well;
- Tier 2: Frontline services offering urgent help when problems start to develop (accessed through self-referral);
- Tier 2/3: Help and support to help you managing your health (accessed through self-referral, mostly to the voluntary sector);

- Tiers 3: Community-based care and treatment for those with more severe problems (GP referral needed);
- Tier 4: Hospital in-patient care and treatment for those with more acute, severe or complex care needs

Supports and services are grouped in two main categories - those specifically for individuals with mental health needs (including those around addiction or trauma) and some that might commonly be used around general health and well-being.

Some services and supports have been given a place in these tables but are cross-cutting and apply at all levels, including:

- health improvement (to prevent, delay or manage illness and support recovery)
- suicide prevention training
- housing and homelessness
- financial/benefits advice
- carer involvement
- social connectedness
- employability.
